HS2 celebrates amazing finds as part of Festival of Archaeology

To mark the Council for British Archaeology's Festival of Archaeology, we are holding a series of free events so you can get involved and find out more information about some of the exciting finds being uncovered as we build the country's new high speed railway.

The Festival of Archaeology runs from 16 – 31 July, shining a light on our past and how our ancestors lived.

Our events for this year's festival include:

- A drop-in event in Coleshill where you can find out about our work in the area and talk to our experts
- A webinar about the Anglo-Saxon cemetery in Wendover
- Talks about some of our key sites in Buckinghamshire at Discover Bucks as part of their day of events
- A webinar about the wood figure uncovered in Twyford that was featured in Digging for Britain
